

Pursuant to 29 CFR 90.18(c) reconsideration may be granted under the following circumstances:

- (1) If it appears on the basis of facts not previously considered that the determination complained of was erroneous;
- (2) if it appears that the determination complained of was based on a mistake in the determination of facts not previously considered; or
- (3) if in the opinion of the Certifying Officer, a misinterpretation of facts or of the law justified reconsideration of the decision.

Investigation findings show that the workers produce mechanics' hand tools.

The Department's denial was based on the fact that the "contributed importantly" test of the Group Eligibility Requirements of the Trade Act was not met. Both plants will close in April 1995 because of a corporate decision to consolidate operations at other domestic corporate facilities. A domestic transfer of production would not form a basis for a worker group certification. Further, the findings show increased sales and production of mechanics' hand tools at the subject plants in the first nine months of 1994 compared to the same period in 1993.

Other findings show that neither the subject plants nor its parent, Stanley Works in Connecticut, imported hand tools from China in the relevant period.

Conclusion

After review of the application and investigative findings, I conclude that there has been no error or misinterpretation of the law or of the facts which would justify reconsideration of the Department of Labor's prior decision. Accordingly, the application is denied.
